The Healdton field continues to lead in Oklahoma production. There was a falling off in the daily average of this field during the severe winter weather, but there has not been a time in the last year when Healdton did not lead other fields of the state in production. There are now 1,565 producing wells in the Healdton field proper. This does not include the Wheeler or Fox fields. The daily production is 54,600 barrels. There are 45 wells drilling and 22 rigs. Several locations have been made, especially in the vicinity of the Kairo well which picked up what appears to be a new sand in the southwest of the northwest of section 2 43w at 1,274 feet, about a week ago. There are approximately 11,850,000 barrels of storage in the field at this time.

Critchlow & Markham have big finds on the ground for No. 12 well in section 3 43w, one location west and south of the Kairo No. 1.

Kairo Oil Company is drilling on No. 2, one location east of No. 1, in section 2 43w.

Fred Chapman has a rig, one location south of the Kairo well No. 1, in section 2 43w.

The Ames well in section 7 below drilled into salt water at 1,310 feet and has been plugged and abandoned.

Evans & Bole are drilling at 110 feet in section 31 25N, south of the Kirk Oil Company's operation in that section. They are seeking the shallow production found by the Kirk company at about 170 feet. Walk Bros. are doing the drilling.

Roxana Petroleum No. 5 in section 25 43w, drilling for the Westheimer sands.

discontented section of the house of commons. He suggested that the war cabinet was weary, and should be aided by special councils dealing both with war and home affairs.

To Assistance of Premier.
Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, and Arthur J. Balfour, foreign secretary, came to the assistance of the hard pressed premier. Mr. Bonar Law produced statistics with the view of disposing of charges against the government of failing to carry out promises with regard to shipbuilding, food and other matters. Like the premier yesterday, he challenged the house to change the government if it no longer had confidence in its policy.

Secretary Balfour supported strongly the premier's view concerning the speeches of Emperor William. Chancellor Von Hertling and Count Czernin, saying that they were not the slightest indication of an approach to the allied war aims, but rather gave the impression that three years of war had produced no change in Germany's military policy. His speech undoubtedly had a great influence on the house and, although the debate continued, a great many members left the chamber at the conclusion of Mr. Balfour's speech. The vote was taken in a comparatively thin house.

THREE PRISONERS WORKING ON STREETS IN ESCAPE EFFORT

Three prisoners working on the streets escaped yesterday afternoon. Will Street, the negro who escaped a few days ago and was caught with two pairs of trousers he had stolen, was brought back to court and given fifty days additional to serve, was working with a pick chained to his ankle. He escaped from the guard, went to the fourth ward school building where, with a stone and piece of iron, he broke the lock on the pick and took it from his leg and got away. He was heard from later as having stolen a cap from the store of O. L. Dennes. Street is a "dope fiend" according to the police, and will steal anything to obtain money with which to purchase the drug.

"Bony" Austin and his son, Jim Austin, also made another break for liberty. When first imprisoned on the charge of stealing an overcoat they cut a hole in the roof of the city prison and were about to get away when caught. They were working on the streets yesterday when they escaped from the guard. They were later arrested by Policeman Ford and returned to jail, where they are now confined in a cell. They are both addicted to the drug habit and were not trying to leave town, but were seeking a place where they could obtain morphine.

GEIGER CONVICTED AND GIVEN TEN-YEAR TERM

The jury in the case of the state vs. Cecil Geiger, robbery, on trial yesterday in the district court, brought in a verdict of guilty and assessed the punishment at ten years' imprisonment in the state penitentiary. This is the case in which the defendant held up Lee Tripp, robbed him, tied him to a tree and ran away with his automobile.

The case of the state vs. Lewis Hayes, robbery, was taken up for trial this afternoon. In this case the defendant is charged with robbing two Chinamen at the Imperial Cafe of a diamond ring, a watch and a small sum of money.
